THE OLD MAN'S DREAM.

Oh, for one hour of youthful joy!
Give back my twentieth Spring!
I'd rather laugh a bright-haired boy,
Than reign a gray-haired king.

Off with the wrinkled spoils of age,
Away with learning's crown!
Tear out life's wisdom-written page,
And dash its trophies down.

One moment let my life-blood stream
From boyhood's fount of flame;
Give me one giddy reeling dream
Of life, and love, and fame.

My listening angel heard the prayer,
And calmly smiling, said:
"If but touch thy silvered hair
Thy hasty wish hath sped.

"But is there nothing in the past
To bid thee fondly stay,
While the swift seasons hurry back
To find the wished-for day?"

Ah, truest, best of womankind,
Without thee what were life?
One bliss I cannot leave behind;
I'll take—my precious—wife.

The angel took a sapphire pen,
And wrote with morning dew:
"The man would be a boy again,
And be a husband, too

"And is there nothing left unsaid,
Before the change appears?
Remember all those gifts have fled
With the revolving years."

Yes; for memory would recall
My fond, paternal joys;
I could not bear to leave them all;
I'll take—my girls—and boys.

The smiling angel dropped his pen—
"Why this will never do.
The man would be a boy again,
And be a father, too."

And so I laughed. My laugh awoke
The household with its noise
And wrote my dream when morning broke
To please the gray-haired boys.

TAMING WILD BEASTS.

The veteran animal tamer, Alfred Bitll, says that too much whipping makes a wild animal sulky and vicious, but a certain amount of whipping is necessary. "To train a wild beast," he said recently, "you must first make its acquaintance from the outside of the cage, and get the animal acquainted with your face, but above all with your voice. They become accustomed to voices sooner than faces, and are governed more by sound than by sight.

Having got accustomed to your beasts and they to you, the next step is to train them, to their tricks. Though these tricks are simple they require a great deal of time and patience, and a great deal of whipping to accomplish them. The lions are the smartest of the wild beasts. You can train a lion to do the ordinary tricks of the trade, jumping through the hoops and over gates, standing on his hind legs and so on, in about five weeks constant work. It will require a week longer to teach a lioness, and a leopard, which comes next to a lion in intelligence, about six weeks to learn the same feats. It takes about seven or eight weeks to teach a tiger, and a tigress from eight to nine weeks, while you can keep on beating and teaching a hyena for four months before you can do much with him.

The most difficult thing to do is to teach a wild beast to let you lie down on him without his trying to make you lie in him by eating you up. Kindness—that is anything but ordinary civility—is absolutely thrown away upon a wild beast. With a tiger or tigress especially, all affection is literally wasted. A tiger is as likely to eat you up after an intimate acquaintance of six weeks. The whip is the most efficacious instrument for training. If I were to drop my whip the beasts would fancy I had lost all power over them and would pounce first upon the whip and then go for me. Four tigresses trained are estimated to be worth $32,000; but a good tiger, unbroken, is not worth more than $2,000 to $2,500 each; panthers, $600; jaguars, 400; hyenas, $400, if untamed; leopards, $250 to $400, according to their kind."

Ground mustard, mixed with a little water, is an excellent agent for cleansing the hands after handling odorous substances, such as codliver oil, musk, valerianic acid and its salts. Scale pans and vessels may also be readily freed from odor by the same method. A. Huber states that all oily seeds will answer this purpose. In the case of almonds and mustard, the development of ethereal oil, under influence of water, may perhaps be an additional help to destroy foreign odors. The author mentions that the rubbing the hands with damp flax-seed meal, and that codliver oil bottles may be cleansed with a little of the same, or olive oil.

Part of the city of Deadwood, Dak., is claimed by placer miners under the mineral land act, and they want to wash out the foundations of houses, to which the owners of surface plots protest. The case had been decided in favor of the miners in the general land office, and the surface owners have appealed to the Secretary of the Interior. Under the law, if the land is more valuable for minerals than for agriculture, it can be entered as a mineral land, and this seems to be the case at Deadwood.

The records of Congress show that rebel claims to the amount of $2,591,312,837 have thus far been presented. If you are in favor of the Government paying this immense sum, and millions more, vote for Hancock! If not; vote for Garfield!

What this country needs is an invention to convince flies that a bald-head is not a skating rink.

THE CHAMOIS.

We left the train for Interlaken; spent a restful Lenten night there, and next morning at daybreak were off for the mountains. The first discovery I made was that the beauty of the lake had not been overestimated. Within a day or two I made another discovery. That was that the hunted chamois is not a wild goat; that it is not a timorous animal; that it is not shy; that it does not avoid human society; and that there is no peril in hunting it. The chamois is a black or brown creature, no bigger than a mustard-seed. You do not have to go after it; it comes after you. It arrives in vast herds, and skips and scampers all over your body, inside your clothes. Thus it is not shy, but extremely sociable. It is not afraid of man; on the contrary it will attack him. Its bite is not dangerous, neither is it pleasant. Its activity has not been overstated. Try to put your finger on it; it will skip a thousand times its own length at one jump, and no eye is sharp enough to see where it lights. A great deal of romantic nonsense has been written about the Swiss chamois and the perils of hunting it, whereas the truth is that even women and children hunt it, and fearlessly. Indeed, everybody hunts it. The hunting is going on all the time day and night, in bed and out of it. It is poetic foolishness to hunt it with a gun. Very few people do that. There is not one man in a million who can hit it with a gun. It is much easier to catch it than it is to shoot it, and only the experienced chamois hunter can do either. Another common piece of exaggeration is that about the scarcity of the chamois. It is the reverse of scarce. Droves of 100,000,000 chamois are not unusual in the Swiss hotels, indeed, they are so numerous as to be a great pest. The romancers always dress the chamois hunters in fanciful and picturesque costume, whereas the best way to hunt this game is to do it without any costume at all.

The article of commerce called chamois skin is another fraud. Nobody could skin a chamois. It is too small. The creature is a humbug in every way, and every thing which has been written about it is sentimental exaggeration. It was no pleasure to me to find the chamois out, for he had been one of my pet illusions. All my life it had been my dream to see him in his native wilds some day, and engage in the adventurous sport of chasing him from cliff to cliff. It is no pleasure to me to expose him now, and destroy the reader's delight in him and respect for him, but still it must be done, for when an honest writer discovers an imposition it is his simple duty to strip it bare and hurl it down from its place of honor, no matter who suffers by it. Any other course would render him unworthy of the public confidence.—Twain.

THE MINISTER'S WIFE.—The minister's wife should be selected by a committee of church members. She should be warranted never to have the headache or neuralgia; she should have nerves of wire and sinews of iron; she should be cheerful, intellectual, pious and domesticated; she should be able to keep her husband's house, darn his stockings, make his shirts, cook his dinner, light his fire, and copy his sermons; she should keep up the style of a lady on the wages of a day laborer, and be always at leisure for "good works," and always ready to receive morning calls; she should be secretary of the Band of Hope, the Dorcas Society, and the Home Missions; she should conduct the Bible class and the Mother's Meetings; she should make clothing for the poor and gruel for the sick; and, finally, she should be pleased with everybody and everything, and never desire any reward beyond the satisfaction of having done her duty—and other people too.

"In what condition was the patriarch Job at the end of his life?" asked a Sunday School teacher of a quiet looking boy at the foot of the class. "Dead," calmly replied the quiet looking boy.

Professor: "Can any one tell us the origin of the expression 'Go to?'" Embryo minister: "Perhaps there was something more to it once, and they left it off because it didn't sound well."

Strong men shudder and grow sick as the fearful news floats through the newspapers that "milliners are returning from Europe with models of the coming bonnet."—Boston Commercial.

A social philosopher asks if the ladies whose names constantly appear in the society journals' lists of guests at fairs, seaside resorts, hotels, and watering-places have any children or any husbands.

How quietly flows the river toward the sea, yet it always reaches its destination. This is a point to remember when you are trying to "rush things."

It is wonderful how silent a man can be when he knows his cause is just, and how boisterous he becomes when he knows he is in the wrong.

A negro, after gazing at some Chinese, shook his head and solemnly said: "If de white folks be so dark as dat out dar, I wonder what's de color of de black folks?"

The bee and mule are too tender hearted to look upon suffering. They always turn their backs when they strike.

Irish-American Republicans.

The Irish-American Republicans of New York held a Convention at Saratoga on Monday last, and adopted a platform which contains the following truthful passage:

The Republican party in forcing protection for American industry, is entitled to the gratitude and earnest support of every Irish-American in the land, as no people have greater reason to dread the evils which the Democratic doctrine of free trade, if once adopted, would bring upon themselves and their families. In this connection, Irish-American citizens, without regard to party, are earnestly implored to consider calmly and carefully this vital question, remembering that at the present hour the agents of England are traveling throughout the Western States, circulating speciously-written documents and expending British gold in their desperate efforts to secure the election of a Democratic President, pledged to inforce the tariff for revenue only, and which, if accomplished, will enable that party to flood our markets with the products of pauper labor, and will compel American workingmen to engage in competition with the ill-fed, ill-clad and poorly-paid laborers of Europe.

The Irish voters are awakening to the truth; that the Democracy are not the true friends of the laboring man, and that the Republicans are, and always have been.—Regularly before an election the Democracy are the busiest creatures in the country, blarneying the adopted citizen, to have them vote the Democratic ticket. The Germans long since turned their backs on that party and have for the past twenty years been voting with the party of progress and universal liberty and equality, and the native born of the Emerald Isle are following in their footsteps.

A CASE IN POINT.—Mr. Lawrence entered his manufactory last week, and calling his foreman, ordered him to discharge all the hands. The foreman was astonished and ventured to suggest that he had a fine set of men, that business was never more prosperous, and for the life of him he could not see the necessity for any change. "But we must have a new deal. These men have been faithful, it is true, but there are lots of men to fill their places." "I don't know about that," said the foreman; "and as for the change for the sake of the change, I must say, if you will permit me, that——" "I know what you are going to say," interrupted Mr. Lawrence, "but it's no use. The principle is what I am contending for." "For heaven's sake, Mr. Lawrence, what principle is there involved in a position which induces you to destroy a profitable business, and to try an experiment which is doubtful at best?" "It is the great principle which is the foundation of the Democratic party at the North. It asks the people to interrupt the prosperous career of the Nation, because the Republicans have been in power twenty years." "O, I see," said the foreman.—Boston Journal.

General Williamson, Commissioner of the General Land Office, has called a meeting of the Surveyors-General of the States and Territories in Salt Lake city, Utah, on the 5th of October. The object of the meeting is to discuss the present method of making surveys, with a view to instituting certain reforms tendering to better and more permanent work under the present lines.

"FALL IN."—We are indebted to M. Gray, the leading music publisher of San Francisco, for a copy of the Garfield and Arthur new campaign song, "Fall In!" as sung by the Amphion Quartette of San Francisco. Those wishing new music can have their wants supplied by sending to M. Gray.

It is expected that the completion of the Carson and Colorado Railroad to Walker river will give a new impetus to copper mining in that region. The opening of the road will give the owners of these mines an outlet for their ores.

The Democrats of the First District have nominated General Rosecrans for Congress but there does not seem to be much harmony in the party over the nomination.

ASSEMBLYMAN.

Hon. Jo. Wasson, having been nominated by the Republican County Convention of Inyo to represent that county and Mono in the next Legislature, has been indorsed by the Republican Central Committee of this county, Col. Riordan; who was nominated by the Republican Convention last week, having declined. Considering the make-up of the last Legislature; which was probably the worst that ever convened within the walls of the Capitol, Mr. Wasson did as much for the interests of our district as any man could have done. A large element in the last Assembly was antagonistic to the mining interests of the State, and occupying the important position of Chairman of the Committee on Mines Mr. Wasson was in a position to thwart legislation unfriendly to the mining interests, and he did so in an eminent degree. It is a noticable fact that the legislator who is returned, session after session, to represent his county, is the most successful in shaping legislation in the interests of his constituency. In the late Democratic County Convention Dr. Griswold, who was placed in nomination for the Assembly, in his speech indorsing the platform, referred to his having once represented Mono in the Legislature and claimed that his legislative experience would enable him to do more for the county than a new man could accomplish. In this he was right—all things being equal, but he was not indorsed by the Convention.

As the coming Legislature will be Republican, the Chairmanship of the several Committees will necessarily be of the same party, consequently it will be of material interest to this district that Mr. Wasson be returned to the Assembly, that he may occupy the same position he filled last Winter.

THE CALIFORNIAN.—There were but few, if any, Californians that did not regret the death of the Overland Monthly, but its place is well filled by The Californian, published by The California Publishing Co., San Francisco, which has among its contributors many of the best writers in the State. The October number is a gem, containing the first paper of A Winter in Berlin, by W. W. Crane, Jr.; Cruising in a Chinese Man-of-War, by H. D. Wolfe; A Strange Confession, Chap. III. IV., by W. C. Morrow; An Autumn Day, poem, by Carlotta Perry; A Private Letter, by E. R. Sill; John G. Whittier, by John Murray; Penelope's Web, by Sallie R. Heath; Henry Huntly Haight, by Phflip G. Galpin; Some Incidents of the Seven Days, by Edward Field; Which is Best?, poem, by Seddie E. Anderson; "Liz," by Mary W. Glarrock; A Scrap of Frontier History, by H. S. Brooks; Education in Japan, by Marie Howland; A Trip to the Shoshone Falls, by Robert Briggs; In Twilight Woods, a poem, by Charles H. Shinn; Our Roadbuilders and the State, by Alex. Del Mar; The Battle of the Wabash, by Lorelle; Science and Industry, etc. Now that our evenings are lengthening, allowing more time for reading, $3 a year for this excellent monthly would be a profitable investment.

The Swedish and Norwegian press are hotly discussing the question of an early repeal of the Act of Union, and the formation of a Norwegian Republic. The Swedish journals maintain that the honor of Sweden is involved, and that strong measures should be employed if necessary. The relations between the King and Norwegian Storthing are very strained, a large majority having denied the King's right to an official veto. The thousands of Norwegians in this country are wielding a powerful influence, quietly, but surely, with the "old folks at home" in the mother country that will ultimately bring Norway, Sweden, and Denmark into the republican family circle.

The Louisiana Greenbackers are going to put a full State ticket in the field.

Sacramento is terribly afflicted through her State Fair doings. Her humans are troubled with the diphtheria, throat complaints, influenza, etc., brought on by her people visiting the heated Pavilion and then passing out into the open air. And her horses have the epizootic, which is supposed to have been introduced by horses from abroad.

The French Government will take a prominent part in the centennial celebration of the siege and capture of Yorktown next year. It will send a fleet and a regiment of troops.

Michael Coyle and John Johnson, two of Bodie's exports, were arrested in San Francisco in an altercation about matters that had transpired in Bodie.

On Wednesday last a rebel battle-flag floated from a Democratic pole, in Maryland, within sight of the National Capital.

NEW TO-DAY.

"In my opinion the best interests of the whole country—North and South, demand the success of the ticket headed by Garfield and Arthur."—U. S. Grant.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

"Home Again."

Monday last was quite a gala day in Bodie, owing to the return of Sir Knights. Wm. Irwin, Superintendent of the Standard Consolidated, George Warren, Foreman of the Blackhawk, and J. H. Caldwell, from the East, bearing with them the grand Standard presented to the Bodie Commandery for sending the largest per centage of its membership to the Chicago Conclave. At an early hour flags were hoisted on all the principal places of business, Miners' Union Hall, and on the mills and hoisting works along the line. About 10 o'clock the Knights Templar, preceded by a band, marched to near the corner of Low and Main streets, where the returning brothers were duly received, they having come in from Aurora in a carriage drawn by six spirited horses driven by that crack "whip," Jim Mooney. Their advent was heralded by the blowing of the innumerable steam whistles, from the Syndicate Mill to the Queen Bee, and the firing of the Standard cannon. The carriage was driven through Wood to Lowe street, where the beautiful banner was unfurled. The Knights, twenty-nine in number, were drawn up in line with their swords at a "present" when the band struck up "Home Sweet Home," and the carriage passed in front, and turning was driven down the rear of the line. The Knights then took up their march to Masonic Hall, where they halted, and opening ranks, the carriage was driven through the lines to the entrance to the Hall, where the returning Knights alighted and were escorted to the lodge room, where the usual congratulations were indulged in. In the evening a grand banquet was given at the Hall, after which dancing was in order till about 2 o'clock the following morning. The Knights Templar made a fine appearance in their rich and tasty uniform, and marched like old veterans. The banner brought home is a magnificent affair, but as it was immediately taken from the sight of profane eyes we cannot describe it.

SAVE ME FROM MY FRIENDS!—As usual, the Standard-News has kicked the kettle over. The Standard and News were the cause of the failures to remove the County Seat to Bodie. They "blabbed" too much. And now comes the consolidated Standard-News with a left-handed assistance to the good people of Bodie. It is well-known that active and exempt members of the fire department are exempt from all jury duty, except Coroner's. It happens, however, that firemen are often summoned as jurymen, and an expense of time and money is imposed upon them when called upon by the Superior Court. The Sheriff has no discretion in the matter; he has to serve the summons, although aware that the party is exempt. Now this is a great hardship, and to lessen the burden and save the fireman the trouble of going to Bridgeport to be excused, Judge Briggs generously consented to accept affidavit as to exemption. No one has a right to exact legal services without cost, and therefore the party who did not wish to go to the County Seat made affidavit that he was exempt from jury duty and was charged the small sum of $2 50 for the service. It so happened that Judge Briggs was at the office of the Court Commissioner when the applications were made, and it was natural that that officer should be called upon to administer the oaths. The Court Commissioner being a lady should have protected her from the boors who rushed to our cotemporary and shamefully complained of, as they call it, extortion. That Judge Briggs should be charged with "putting up a job," is unjust and ungenerous, and that he should feel it keenly is not to be wondered at. In consequence of that unwarranted and ill-advised attack upon his motives, he has ordered that a sworn list of all firemen be deposited in the County Clerk's office, according to law, and expresses a determination that firemen shall hereafter go to Court to be excused. Therefore when a fireman has to spend about twenty dollars and two days in making the pleasant trip to Bridgeport, he can curse the Standard-News until the atmosphere is blue. Will that paper ever know enough to keep its foot out?

DISCREDITABLE.—The actions of the Democratic and Republican County Conventions in assessing each candidate, when placed in nomination, $20, were barefaced swindles. The assessment should have been only enough to pay expenses of the Convention, and $5 each would have been sufficient for that purpose. But it appears that both parties embraced the opportunity to rob their friends, and the meanness of the act is more glaring when it was a doubt as to an election being held. The money should be returned to all who are not voted for next November. While it may be questioned as to our right to meddle with the workings of the Democratic Convention, we merely mentioned it because we find it in the same boat with the Republican Convention. So far as our vote is concerned, we shall use it that the Central Committee return the ill-gotten money to the victims of the Republican Convention.

MARE'S NEST.—Our evening cotemporary, having a "duty to perform to the public," you know, has found another mare's nest; this time in the school house. What next?

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Mr. Warrington will hold services in Odd Fellows' Hall at the usual hours to-morrow morning and evening.

The following deeds have been recorded in the County Recorder's office:

Geo. E. Gard to R. L. Peterson, 25 feet of the Gold Band mine, Homer D., $50.

D. Collamer to Chas. W. Sullivan, one-sixteenth of the Josie Green mine, Homer District, $20.

Keith District.

Work is being resumed in this Mining District. Isaac W. Zent, Superintendent of the Oakland and Zent mines, arrived here on Monday last to resume work on the above named mines, in which Eastern capitalists have recently taken an interest. Work was resumed yesterday, and will be pushed energetically. The tunnel of the Oakland is in about 250 feet, and it will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible. The Zent has a shaft 118 feet deep, from which depth a crossent will be run to the ledge. When work was stopped on these mines some eighteen months ago they were looking well, and we shall now expect to hear good results from a resumption of work.

Superior Court open daily.

Board of Supervisors meets on the First Monday of February, May, August and November at Bridgeport, the County Seat.

A QUIETUS.—The Supreme Court has again decided that we are to have no election in November for County officers. This settles the matter and all must accept the situation. Under the Constitution, as understood by the Supreme Court, the November election is not a general election, and no county officers can be elected this Fall, but all hold over till the next general election. The Legislature next Winter will have to pass another County Government act, and it is to be hoped that that branch of our government will be composed of men with more brains than the majority of the last Legislature possessed.

BULLION SHIPMENTS.—We are indebted to Major Atlee, of Wells, Fargo & Co., for the following statement of the bullion shipments during September:

The nomination of Judge Wiggin for Superior Judge of Mono county is hailed with great satisfaction by the people of San Francisco and Alameda counties who have known the Judge long and favorably.—S. F. Stock Report.

His friends below may rest assured that the Judge's nomination has been well received throughout the county, and his election by a large majority is certain.

JUPITER.—On a clear evening look at Jupiter—not the mine, but the planet—with a good opera glass and see his moons. It is said that one moon can be seen with the naked eye—if it is a good eye.

PERSONAL.—A. C. Stewart, of Boisot & Stewart, returned yesterday from a tour in the East, he having been one of the Bodie Knights Templar who attended the Conclave at Chicago.

COMING ELECTIONS.—Colorado elects State officers October 5th, Georgia chooses State officers October 7th, Ohio elects minor officers October 12th, Indiana elects state officers and Congressmen October 12th, and then comes November 2.

Hon. Porter Sheldon, of Jamestown, N. Y., who was a Tilden elector four years ago, opposes the election of General Hancock.

The New Hampshire Greenbackers have nominated Warren S. Brown for Governor.

The Greenbackers of South Carolina have nominated L. W. R. Blair for Governor.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

(From the Bridgeport Union).

FOR FIREMEN.—On Thursday last Judge Briggs made the following order:

It is hereby ordered that the President and Secretary of each and every fire company within the county of Mono, shall within 20 days from the 1st day of January, April and October of each year, file with the County Clerk a list of all officers and members of their respective companies, under affidavit that the list given is a true one, and that the number of members does not exceed the number allowed by law.

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS.—In another column will be found a notice of a series of meetings to be held in this county by some of the State Central Committee. They will be at Benton on the 18th inst.; Bodie, 20th; and Bridgeport, 21st. J. W. Brier is a good speaker, and will command a good attendance.

SUPERIOR COURTS.—The Superior Courts will meet on Monday next. Department No. 1 will be presided over by Hon. Judge Briggs, where the criminal cases will be tried. Department No. 2, Hon. Judge M. P. Wiggin, presiding, will attend to civil cases.

PERSONAL.—On Tuesday last A. H. Allen returned from the East and was warmly welcomed. As a Knight Templar he participated at the Chicago Conclave, after which he made an extended visit to his Ohio friends.

ASSESSMENT ROLL.—Deputy Auditor Watson has been wrestling with the Assessment Roll for the past three weeks, and on Monday next it will be submitted to the Board of Supervisors to levy the tax for the fiscal year 1880-81.

TO BE SET.—On Monday next both Departments of the Superior Court set the Calendar—Judge Briggs, the criminal; and Judge Wiggin, the civil cases. The criminal cases will be set at 10 o'clock, and the civil at 1 o'clock.

NO ELECTION.—There will not be an election this year for county officers, as the election next November is not a general election within the meaning of the Constitution.

SHOCKED.—On Tuesday morning last, Under Sheriff Massey was horrified, upon opening the jail, to see a figure hanging by the neck. It was a dummy—a joke of the prisoners.

NEW CITIZENS.—The following natives of the Azore Islands were naturalized on Wednesday: Manuer Viera and John Cabral.

REJOICING.—The County officers are glad to hear that they hold over till 1883, and the people may also rejoice.

JURY.—A trial jury of 75 is to be in attendance on Monday next. Another avalanche of cursing.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board is to meet on Monday next.

CONSTABLE.—Daniel Ashley, of Benton, has been appointed constable.

MASONIC AID ASSOCIATION.—The Northwestern Masonic Aid Association is confined strictly to the relief of members of the Masonic Order who may be in good health when joining. To be entitled to join this Association one must be a Master Mason not over the age of fifty years. It now numbers 8,500 members, and during the past six years has paid nearly $300,000 in benefits to the families of deceased Masons. It costs but little to insure a family against suffering and want through the sudden taking off of its natural provider. L. N. Snyder is now the Bodie Agent of this Association and will give parties all the information they may desire regarding its workings. Mr. Snyder is also agent of the Women's Relief Association, of Petaluma, which insures the lives of females between the ages of 18 and 50 years.

NEW MINISTER.—The Nevada Conference of the M. E. Church has transferred Rev. G. B. Hinkle who has been Bodie's worthy Pastor for the past two years, to Mason Valley, a change that will be agreeable to him on account of his health. Mr. Hinkle has done good work here and made many warm friends, who will regret to have him leave us, but our loss will be his gain is our wish. His position here will be filled by Rev. Mr. Warrington, late of Winnemucca, Nevada.

HIS COUNSEL.—Hon. Thomas P. Ryan, of Bodie, has been retained by Sharp, the stage robber, now in jail at Aurora, to defend him. The Grand Jury will meet on Monday next, where the prisoner will probably be indicted. Hon. P. Reddy has been retained by Wells, Fargo & Co., to prosecute Sharp. With Ryan and Reddy pitted against each other the trial of Sharp will be warmly contested and watched with interest by the public.

NEW PRINCIPAL.—Miss Charlotte M. Pitcher has assumed the principalship of the Bodie District School. This is a judicious selection on the part of our Trustees, Miss Pitcher being an excellent teacher, having had much experience in Sacramento and Placer counties, and under her management parents will have no good cause for faultfinding.

FRESH FISH.—E. F. Gibson, of the Union Fruit Market, just above the Postoffice, is in receipt of a fine lot of fresh salmon, just what you want for breakfast and dinner to-morrow (Sunday). He has also a new lot of fresh fruit of all kinds.

FINE JEWELRY.—L. Hollander, is selling off his large stock of jewelry, watches and silverware at cash. There is no foolishness about this, as will be seen by calling and getting his prices.

WEATHER.—The nights are cold—ice forming.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 20th, 1880.

The Democrats appear to have been a little "too previous" in bringing out their roosters, cannon and flags of exultation. To use a common phrase, "they halloed before they were out of the woods." They have burned their powder, spent their breaths in uttering useless huzzas, have paraded their roosters, and, like the Chinese, have brought forth their gongs and stink-pots to give zest to the occasion, only to discover, when the smoke of the conflict had lifted from the battle field of Maine, that they had barely escaped a Waterloo defeat under majorities by the thousands, instead of having won a victory. And another feature of their premature shouting strongly protrays the dishonesty of the Democratic party, which is more prominent in this canvass than any other characteristic. If the battle has been won to them, instead of being manifestly lost, as the latest advices clearly indicate, it would have been in no degree a Democratic victory. It is only this and no more—the Greenbackers of Maine have saved the Democrats from an ignominious defeat. They rushed to the front early, have stolen the Greenback stage thunder, and thus magnify themselves. In other words, they have been trading on borrowed capital. It was a favorite maxim with that apostle of democracy, Andrew Jackson "any man who trades on borrowed capital ought to break," and in this instance his own party has exemplified the truth of his maxim. This attempt to steal and utilize a Greenback victory, had any been won for that side in Maine to their own glorification has brought them to a state of utter bankruptcy in popular respect. In this they are severely punished, if they have sensibility enough left to suffer punishment. No party was ever more exposed in its reckless pretenses than the Democrats have been in this instance, and none was ever more confidingly humiliated, if it is capable of appreciating humiliation.

This episode of Democratic glorification and exultation over a hollow victory will prove of inestimable benefit to the Republican cause throughout the North and West. It admonishes the Republicans that they cannot indulge in any confidence any where that impairs the vigor and determination of the canvass. They must fight right on in every State under the impulse that one more vote is needed at the last hour, before the voting begins, and they are determined to secure that vote. Instead of relaxing any effort, renewed vigor and determination must be infused into the canvass, in every State, district, county and precinct of the North, and every laudable agency must be brought to the work from this day until the 2d day of November, with so much power that an overwhelming defeat of the enemy shall be inevitable. There is not an intelligent Republican in all this country but who knows and feels that a Democratic victory in this contest will be as disastrous to the general welfare of the nation as it would have been sixteen years ago to have crowned the rebellion with a triumph. A Democratic victory now is a virtual surrender of the government into the hands of its enemies.

These conditions, allied as they are to a possibility that all the impending dangers may fall on the devoted head of the nation, and take in connection the late rebel yell that went up insultingly to heaven over a fancied Democratic victory in Maine, should admonish the Republican party, and especially the business and industrial interests of the country, that they should make any sacrifice of effort or money to save the country from the impending peril.

CAPITAL CHIPS.

Secretary Schurz returned from his western trip Saturday.

Several of our old army officers are to be retired in accordance with the programme recently inaugurated by President Hayes. Among them are Quartermaster General Meigs, and Surgeon General Barnes.

General Ingalls will in all probability succeed General Meigs. General Barnes successor has not yet been determined on, or if so, it has not been made public.

The Readjusters of Virginia refuse to compromise with the Funders. The consequence is there will be two Democratic Electoral tickets in the field, and give the Republicans a fair show of carrying the State for Garfield.

An order was issued by the Postmaster-General Saturday, forbidding the transmission through the mails of any letters addressed to the "Commonwealth Distributing Company" of Louisville, Ky., instructing all Postmasters to return such letters to the Postmasters of the offices where they were originally mailed, with the word fraudulent written or stamped across the envelope. This order also applies to the Kentucky State Lottery.

The Postoffice Departments has prepared a schedule advertisement for carrying the mails on all the postal routes in the United States except the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. The total number of routes to be advertised is about 1,200. These comprise newly established routes, routes in which there have been failures to comply with contracts, etc.

During the week ended yesterday $758,000 in National bank notes were received at the Treasury for redemption, as against $1,077,000 for the corresponding week for last year. The Treasury holds $360,560,850 in United States bonds to secure National bank circulation; United States bonds deposited on account of circulation for the week ended yesterday, $439,000, and withdrawn $942,100.

In Indiana the Democrats carried a Confederate flag in a procession.

General Walker is investigating the Mississippi census.

What the Son Says.

At Batavia, Ill., they dedicated a Republican wigwam the other day. Among the speakers was young Stephen A. Douglas, and this is what he said:

"That there had been considerable surprise manifested that one bearing his name should be a Republican, and he felt that it was his duty to take the stump and explain. He had been born a Democrat, he had been a Democrat in his boyhood, and grew up to manhood as such, a Democrat—a Union Democrat, a Douglas Democrat. [Applause.] He had emigrated to a Democratic county in a Democratic district in a Democratic State, and had been converted to Republicanism in less than three months by what he saw there. It did not take a Federal office to convert him, for the only office he had ever held was that of Adjutant General when he was nineteen years old, and hunted kuklux in North Carolina. He went there a Democrat, but he there found men denied the right of representation. He found the negro barred from the courts, and when made a citizen he saw this same negro denied the right to earn his own bread by the sweat of his brow, and driven from home, starving, with his wife and little ones upon the public way. Yet he refused to turn upon that party which had freed him. All the cruelties failed to make the negro leave his preservers, and as a Democrat he could not subscribe to these outragous acts of the party. He told the story of the murder of the wife of the negro Lomax by the kuklux of North Carolina, and of the farce called a trial, in which the father of the principal murderer sat as foreman of the jury. People might accuse him of waving the bloody shirt, but so long as these people kept the shirt red with the blood of United States citizens, that long would he wave the shirt.

How to Laugh.—As to laughing, how seldom, except on the stage, do we hear a really musical laugh! Some girls make dreadful grimaces when they laugh. A little education in the art would not make it artificial, and they would surely enjoy it all the more if they could realise that they might indulge in mirth without making themselves look so very ugly, as is occasionally the case. It runs in families sometimes to distort the countenance in laughter. I know a family who laugh a great deal. Their eyes always shut up when they do so, and it is the funniest thing when one dines with them and something amusing is said, to look round the table and see exactly the same distortion on every face. There is not an eye left in the family. Three sisters whom I know show quite half an inch of pale pink gum when they laugh. In their presence, like Wendell Holmes, one "never dares to be as funny as one can," for fear of seeing this make their laugh appalling triple vision of gums. A little training in childhood would make their laughter a pleasant thing to look at, as they have all pretty little square teeth, very white and even. Henry Ward Beecher says: "A good laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market," and I am sure a pretty one is worth a thousand.

Two ladies from the country were passing through Charlestown, the other day, when, glancing up toward that patriotic pile erected to the memory of our revolutionary heroes, one of them exclaimed, "I wonder what Mr. Bunker did to cause the erection of such a monument to his memory!"

Somebody says the "devil only came into the world after women was placed here." To which Susan B. Anthony replies: "If there had been only men in the world, the devil would never have come into the crowd. He could have found better company at home."

The women in Philadelphia are busily engaged in getting up political clubs. They are about two feet long, and only appear on parade when the husbands of the women come home late at night.

A young scapegrace threw the ball at his sister and hit her on the back of the head so hard that the bawl came out of her mouth.

What a pity the census was not taken during melon season, when half our population is doubled up.
